

UPCOMING EXHIBITIONS & EVENTS

---

Off the Wall

On View: January 17 - February 23, 2018

Opening: Thursday, January 18, 2018, 5-8PM

Curated by guest curator Jaime DeSimone, Curator of Permanent Collections at MOCA Jacksonville, Off the Wall pays homage to Eva Hesse's groundbreaking work and investigates how contemporary artists continue to explore this liminal space between painting and sculpture. At times, a painting's skin slides onto the floor or creeps onto the ceiling. In others, structural components protrude outward into the gallery space. As our spatial relationship with such works is reconfigured, objects on view in Off the Wall permeate into space and challenge our comprehension of both painting and sculpture. To provide an intimate perspective on this topic, this exhibition will feature a range of works by two Brooklyn-based artists, Rosy Keyser and Ryan Wallace.

---

You Never Know How You Look Through Other People's Eyes

On View: March 8 - April 20, 2018

Opening: Thursday, March 8, 2018, 5-8PM

Curated by artist Scott Patrick Weiner, You Never Know How You Look Through Other People's Eyes integrates artist works into new contexts toward some kind of antagonistic equilibrium. Artists include: Sonia Almeida, Paul S. Briggs, Caleb Charland, Sean Downey, Sean Fader, N. Sean Glover, Jaclyn Jacunski, AJ Liberto, Lilly McElroy, Eric Petitti and Scott Patrick Wiener.

---

2018 MFA Thesis Exhibition

On View: May 11 - June 8, 2018

Opening: Friday, May 11, 2018, 5-8PM

Maine College of Art is pleased to announce the 2018 MFA Thesis Exhibition. The exhibition spotlights works by seven graduating artists, and represents a synthesis of each student's experience in Maine College of Art's MFA Program in Studio Art. The MFA Thesis Exhibition features work in a variety of media and surveys a range of conceptual themes and creative approaches that characterize the global cultural landscape and contemporary art practice.

---

COLLECT: 2018 Maine College of Art Summer Art Sale

On View: June 28 - 30, 2018

An exhibition and sale featuring the original works of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends. A portion of proceeds from COLLECT Summer Art Sale will benefit MECA's Student Scholarship Fund for next generation of artists to pursue their talents.